GOVERNMENT RIPUDAMAN COLLEGE, NABHA

A THREE DAYS VOCATIONALIZATION WORKSHOP ON: Sui Dhaga: Crafting Features

RIPUDAMAN COLLEGE NABHA (Estd . 1946) , named after the patriotic king of the Nabha State His Highness Maharaja Ripudaman Singh , the college is one of the oldest colleges of the state . Maharaja Ripudaman Singh was born on 4th March , 1883 and was the only son of H.H. Maharaja Hira Singh . As a member of the Imperial Legislative Council from 1906 to 1908 he served as the custodian of Sikh community's rights and formed an outline of Reformist Legislation . He represented Nabha State in the coronation ceremony of George V. He passed the " Anand Marriage Act written by Bhai Kahan Singh of Nabha and it remained enforced from 1909 to 1949. Maharaja Ripudaman was coronated as the king of Nabha State after the death of Maharaja Hira Singh in 1911. He brought many administrative reforms during his reign .

Students working enthusiastically during the workshop entitled 'Sui Dhaga' Crafting feature on 22-01-2025 at Govt Ripudman College Nabha.

Students on the 2nd day of "Sui Dhaga: Crafting features" workshop with more energy and enthusiasm.

REPORT OF SUI DHAGA “CRAFTING FEATURES” WORKSHOP

Held at Government Ripudaman College, Nabha under the Vocalization and Skill Enhancement Scheme, Session 2024–25 Sponsored by Punjab Government. Principal Dr. Vaneeta Rani Coordinator: Assistant Professor Shilpi Rani Convener Dr. Shehnaz Khan Resource Person: Instructor Jasvir Kaur, Government ITI Nabha.

Day 1 Setting the Foundation: The workshop commenced on January 22, 2025, at Government Ripudaman College, Nabha, with an enthusiastic gathering. Dr. Vaneeta Rani, Principal of the college, inaugurated the event by emphasizing the importance of skill enhancement in empowering youth. Assistant Professor Shilpi Rani and convener Dr. Shehnaz Khan welcomed the participants and introduced the resource person, Instructor Jasvir Kaur from Government ITI Nabha. Day one began with a hands-on session on fabric selection and basic flag cutting and stitching. Participants learned foundational techniques of cutting and stitching while gaining insights into fabric handling. Instructor Jasvir Kaur provided demonstrations of running stitch, cross stitch, and herringbone stitch. Each participant had the opportunity to practice these stitches under her guidance, ensuring clarity and precision. The day concluded with feedback from the participants, who expressed their eagerness to delve deeper into advanced techniques.

Day 2 Exploring Creative Stitches and Techniques: The second day of the workshop focused on intricate stitching techniques and patchwork. Participants engaged in learning advanced embroidery styles, including lazy daisy stitch, French knot, bullion stitch, fly stitch, and the traditional Phulkari stitch. The workshop fostered creativity as participants experimented with colors and designs in their projects. The session on “Draw and Patch Work” provided a platform for participants to blend artistic skills with practicality. Instructor Jasvir Kaur demonstrated buttonhole stitching techniques, guiding participants in achieving professional results. By the end of the day, participants showcased their embroidered patches and received constructive feedback.

Day 3 Garment Crafting and Final Showcasing: The final day was dedicated to garment crafting and drafting techniques. Participants learned to create body frocks, draft patterns, and sew gathers and plackets for T-shirts. The session included practical exercises, with participants creating sample garments under the supervision of Instructor Jasvir Kaur. Special focus was given to the precision of cutting, drafting, and stitching. As the workshop drew to a close, a mini exhibition was held to display the participants' creations, including embroidered samples, patchwork designs, and stitched garments. Principal Dr. Vaneeta Rani applauded the participants' efforts and emphasized the importance of such workshops in fostering self-reliance and entrepreneurship among students.

Conclusion: The three-day “Sui Dhaga” workshop proved to be a resounding success, equipping participants with essential stitching and embroidery skills. Sponsored by the Punjab Government under the Vocalization and Skill Enhancement Scheme, the initiative aimed at nurturing practical skills in line with industry standards. The collaborative efforts of Principal Dr. Vaneeta Rani, Coordinator Assistant Professor Shilpi Rani, Convener Dr. Shehnaz Khan, and Resource Person Jasvir Kaur were instrumental in ensuring the workshop's effectiveness.

Participants left the workshop with a sense of accomplishment and a desire to pursue further learning in the field of crafting and tailoring. The workshop highlighted the significance of skill development as a cornerstone for economic independence and empowerment.
